

Information Technology Solutions

The SkillsetGroup IT staffing team deploys highly vetted, trained, certified IT specialists backed by our experienced team of technology professionals. You get instant access to consultants with the advanced skills required to take control. As a technology company, we understand what you need from a technical perspective, and what it takes to ensure that every engagement is successful. Our staffing options offer the flexibility you need to solve any IT business needs.

Our Mission

SkillsetGroup's mission is to create a culture that supports long-term retention, internally, for our consultants as well as our customers. Our reputation in the IT consulting field continues to grow because of our focus on customer service for our clients and our work to place the precise right IT talent in their hands.

Project-Based Staffing

Consultants are available across multiple technologies to assist with short-term and long-term project-based work and are engaged initially to assist with the engineering and design of the client's solution and remain engaged through the completion of the project.

Whether your challenge is developing a cloud strategy, assessing security vulnerabilities, or developing an interactive experience for your customers, you need a partner that understands your strategic goals as well as your technology requirements. That partner is SkillsetGroup, from consulting to implementation to ongoing optimization, we combine deep technology experience with the expertise of professionals who bring a personal approach to all things cloud and beyond.
